

Supreme Court to look into issue of termination/salary cuts of techies during lockdown

The Supreme Court has agreed to examine the issue pertaining to mass termination and withholding and deduction of salaries of IT/ITES/BPO/KPO employee by the employers during the Covid-19 lockdown.

The petition was filed by the petitioner Rajesh Inamdar, a practicing advocate in New Delhi, and the National Information Technology Employees Sena (NITES) which is working for welfare and benefits of IT/ITES/BPO/KPO and its related sector employees.

A three-judge bench of Justices Ashok Bhushan, SK Kaul and BR Gavai has conducted hearing through video conferencing and has agreed to examine the matter.
